

Who's looking out for you?

✓ These groups look out for the interests of blacks: National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Congressional Black Caucus, Black Lives Matter, Association of Black Women Physicians, Association of Black Psychologists, National Association of Black Accountants, National Association of Black Male Educators, National Association of Black Journalists, National Black Police Association, etc...

✓ These groups look out for the interests of Hispanics: Congressional Hispanic Caucus, National Council of La Raza, Mexican American Legal Defense Fund, Hispanic National Bar Association, National Hispanic Medical Association, National Association of Hispanic Nurses, Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities, Hispanic Police Officers Association, etc...

✓ These groups look out for the interests of Asians: Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus, Asian American Optometric Society, Asian Real Estate Association of America, Asian American Hotel Owners Association, Korean Association of Retired Persons, etc...

✓ These groups look out for the interests of Jews: Anti-Defamation League of B'nai Brith, American Jewish Committee, American Israeli Public Affairs Committee, Jewish Federation of North America, Jewish Free Loan Association, World Zionist Organization, Jewish Council for Public Affairs, Republican Jewish Coalition, etc...

✗ These groups look out for the interests of whites: Hate groups.

Society allows every group to organize and advocate for their group-interests...except for whites. Why? Seriously—why?

If whites organizing to defend their interests wouldn't harm or threaten the interests of other races, there's no reason it should be taboo and quasi-illegal.

If whites organizing to defend their interests would harm or threaten the interests of other races, that's basically an admission different races have irreconcilable differences.

So maybe we'd be better apart.

Blacks, Hispanics, Asians, and Jews all have homelands: places which are theirs, and theirs alone. American Nationalists want nothing more than the same for their people. We want to live in a livable, low-crime, high-trust society that reflects our values and group-traits. It is self-evident that different races build different societies, and if America gets the demographics of Brazil, it will get the outcomes of Brazil, too.
